

JumpKit

Product Brief

The Best One-Click Link Launcher for Windows & Mac

JumpKit organizes your navigation links in one place — web links, local directories, shared resources — saved in categories and launched in a single click. No more clicking through folders. No more lost tabs. No more bookmarks. Just jump. Save time, save money, and track the savings automatically in a built-in ROI calculator and statistics page. Available for single users and shareable among teams. Getting started takes minutes, works on both Windows and macOS, and keeps your data local — fast, private, and always yours. Stop searching for navigation links, start jumping with JumpKit.

THE PROBLEM

Bookmarks Stink

- They get disorganized
Bookmarks and shortcuts drift out of sync.
- Can't launch directories
No way to open local folders or shared drives.
- Can't be shared with teammates
No easy way to pass resources to your team.
- Difficult to back up or migrate
Hard to move to a new machine or browser.
- Hard to search or filter
Finding a link means scrolling and hunting.
- Locked to one browser
Your links don't follow you everywhere.
- Browser updates break layout
Your carefully organized bar keeps breaking.
- No usage stats or notes
No visibility into what actually saves time.

THE SOLUTION

JumpKit — Your Clean Launchpad

- Organized by categories
Clean columns by department, client, or workflow.
- Launch directories
Open links, folders, and shared drives instantly.
- Shared instantly across your team
Team collections anyone can use — no tribal knowledge.
- Easy backup and migration
Move your setup to any machine in one step.
- Instant search and filter
Type-and-go search across every jump.
- Browser independent
A dedicated desktop app that works everywhere.
- No UI changes ever
Your layout never breaks on an update.
- ROI tracking and notes
Automatically track the time and money you save.

AUTOMATIC STATISTICS

JumpKit counts every jump launched and shows you exactly how much time and money you're saving. All data stays local in an automatic dashboard. Time saved is calculated automatically — every jump carries a time-per-jump value, so each launch adds to your running total in real time. ROI is calculated from that same data: your time saved is multiplied by the hourly rate you set, turning minutes back into dollars you can actually see. No spreadsheets, no guesswork.

USE CASES

Built for Teams, IT, Sales & Engineering

Real-world ways teams put JumpKit to work every day.

Launch admin consoles & KB pages

Every internal tool, KB article, and admin page is one jump away — tickets resolve faster and browser-juggling disappears.

Jump to network shares & drives

Shared drives, local folders, and repos open instantly — alongside docs, CI dashboards, and issue trackers.

Team jumps, same resources

A shared, consistent resource set across the whole team — no more one-off "here's the link" DMs.

Faster resolution time

Less hunting through the wiki and one source of truth for every tool — measured automatically as saved time.
